

Pre-assessment

Determine if each statement is true or not.

1. Correlation coefficient measures the strength of linear relationship between two variables.
2. A scatter diagram is a graphical display of the relationship between two variables.
3. The range of values of a correlation coefficient is 0 to 1.

